ASTIGMATISM.

What it is, and How Corrected.

Astigmatism or Irregular Vision is one of the most common of all the refractive errors. It is due to the irregular curvature of the eye known as the Cornea. Of course no instrument is sufficient to correct it, but in the hands of a thoroughly efficient and competent Eye specialist the ophthalmometer reveals the exact condition of the eye in a way that nothing else can. If your eyes need attention have DR. J. T. JOHNSON to put them under this wonderful instrument. Office hours 8:30 to 12:30; 2 to 6. 302 1/2 Elm St.

MRS. RACHEL ERWIN GONE.

Servant of God, Well Done—Tribute
Of Love From a Friend.

The home is empty! The shutters are closed! The garden is deserted! The silence is unbroken! Where is mother? She has always awaited the coming of the son who weekly sought a Sabbath's rest at home. Where is the glad face that smiled on the daughter and grandsons as they often came to see mother dear? Why do neighbors sigh and loved ones weep? Why everything silent and forsaken?

Tired hands have laid by their last task! Aching limbs have renewed their strength! Tottling feet are now with gladness haste pressing streets paved with gold! Dimming eyes with rapturous gaze behold the King in His beauty in the land that is afar off.

Could our tearful eyes and benumbed faith view in their home beyond our dear ones, we would praise, with them, the Savior Who has "bought and redeemed us with His own most precious blood."

I now picture to myself dear Mrs. Erwin as occupying her place in God's house, when twenty years ago His faithful servant the late Rev. R. P. Troy stood and spoke of God's love and sang praises to the Savior whom he followed. She was ever ready with some word of encouragement and comfort for those in trouble. Now pastor and the faithful of his flock rejoice together in "a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory." The world has lost; heaven has gained.

"Oh, the glad rejoicings there! Oh, the songs that never cease! Happy saints are gathering where Naught can mar the perfect peace."

Mrs. Rachel Erwin was born July 26, 1825; fell on sleep June 23, 1899. She was a member of the large and influential family of Frederick Fentress. She gave her heart to God in early life. Mrs. Erwin was twice widowed, the last time being left in 1862 with four small children. She guarded well the portals of her home at Pleasant Garden, devoting herself to the children whom she trained in the fear of the Lord. Two proceeded here to the glory land. Two are left to mourn—Mrs. F. E. Ross and Mr. R. A. Erwin, both of Greensboro. The mother rests until the final resurrection in the grave yard at Pleasant Garden.

"Servant of God, well done."

COURT CLOSURES.

Large Number of Cases Disposed of The Bar Pleaded.

The special three weeks' term of court closed this morning and Judge Timberlake left at noon for his home in Louisiana. During this term a large number of cases have been disposed of and the judge left the docket considerably lighter than he found it.

Judge Timberlake becomes more popular with the Guilford bar the better he becomes acquainted. As a dispatcher of business he has few equals and no superiors on the bench in North Carolina and his decisions seldom fail to give satisfaction to all concerned.

Just before court adjourned today Col. John A. Barringer, seconded by ex-Judge W. P. Bynum, J., moved that there be an expression of thanks by a rising vote by the members of the Greensboro Bar to Judge Timberlake for the courteous, kind, efficient and able manner in which he had conducted and transacted the business and trial of causes during this special term. The motion was adopted by unanimous vote.

REIGNITAL ENCAMPMENT

Reidsville Rifles and Concert Band to Go to Morehead City.

The Reidsville Rifles—company G, Third regiment state guard—passed through the city this morning enroute to Morehead City where the regiment will assemble in annual encampment for a week. The company in charge of Capt. Gladstone is composed of 36 members.

The Reidsville Concert Band, which will furnish music for the regiment during the week, accompanied company G this morning, two private cars being provided for the accommodation of both organizations. The band has sixteen pieces and is a fine organization.

SHORT'S BIG DAMAGES.

Verdict Against C. F. & Y. V. Railway For $6,500.

A railway damage suit in which the jury awarded the largest amount of damages awarded in any like case tried here in many years, was finished in Guilford court yesterday afternoon.

It was the case of John C. Short against John Gill, receiver of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway Company, wherein the plaintiff asked for $10,000 damages for injuries received while in the service of that company.

The case was given to the jury at 5 o'clock, and at 7 o'clock they returned a verdict, giving the plaintiff damages to the amount of $6,500.

Mr. Short alleged in his complaint that while performing his duties as yard conductor for the C. F. & Y. V. he was thrown from a train, of which he was in charge, near Summerfield, on August 8, 1896. The train consisted of an engine and one caboose car and was enroute to Madison, running on a schedule of 24 miles per hour.

The caboose was turned over and Mr. Short sustained injuries which rendered him unconscious for three days and from which he has never recovered sufficiently to do an kind of manual labor.

The trial of the case occupied two whole days. Much interest was manifested, especially by members of the bar. Messrs. Bynum, Bynum & Taylor represented the plaintiff and George M. Rose Esq., of Fayetteville, assisted by Col. James T. Morehead, of this city appeared for the defendant.

It was a legal battle of no mean importance and the lawyers interested made most creditable efforts. Mr. Z. V. Taylor conducted the case for the plaintiff and when the jury's verdict was made known he received many compliments from his fellow attorneys. The counsel for the defendant have filed notice of appeal.

A TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

An Educational Step Which Should Be Taken Gala Week.

Is there a regularly organized association of teachers in Guilford county? If not, would not such an organization be of much good to the cause of education in this county? With such schools as the Greensboro Female College, Oak Ridge, Whitsett, Guilford College and the State Normal and Industrial College and High Point, it looks like this great work could be greatly benefited by the united efforts of these educators. The initiatory steps could be taken during gala week.

In union there is strength.

Dynamite Again Used.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Brooklyn, July 22—Dynamite was again used by the strikers this morning in an endeavor to wreck a Seventh avenue car. Fortunately the dynamite was discovered in time.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor
Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU
HIGH POINT, N. C., July 22.

The Friend's church is receiving a new coat of paint.

A goodly number of people from here left this morning to attend the picnic at the Friend's orphanage, two and one-half miles from this place. No doubt all will enjoy themselves as on former occasions. Friend's orphanage day is increasing in interest every year.

Usual services tomorrow at the Baptist, Methodist, M. P. and Presbyterian churches by the pastors in charge.

Mr. Dave T. Lambeth, aged about 72 years, died at his home in Thomasville yesterday evening of paralysis. He was one of the old landmarks of that town and a highly respected citizen. For a number of years he was a devout member of the M. E. church; was a Mason and will be buried with the honors of that order. Funeral services will be held Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

We are told that the robbers who entered the safe of J. M. Morris at Thomasville yesterday morning failed to get all the money stored therein as was at first reported. The sum of $150 belonging to the Sledge heirs escaped their notice, the money falling behind the safe when it was blown to pieces.

Presiding Elder Wood of the Greensboro district arrived last evening and held quarterly meeting in the M. E. church at 8:30 o'clock. It was to have been held last Monday morning, but Mr. Wood was called home on account of the sickness of his daughter.

H. P. Cox, of Brown's, and N. L. Alcock, of Virginia, were city guests yesterday.

On account of the illness of C. J. Sullivan, night operator here, a relief man from Franklin Junction, Va., arrived on the southbound local last evening to take the place until he is able to resume work.

Mr. and Mrs. Benson Parker, of Trinity, who have been visiting in Fayetteville, passed through last night enroute home.

The attention of the people along the railroad crossing last night was attracted by a crowd going to a spot just below the gates, as if something of a serious nature had happened. A rail leading from the frog of the switch had been broken into by a freight train that had just passed over and this caused the excitement.

W. C. Jones and E. D. Steele represented High Point in Greensboro yesterday.

W. H. Ragan returned last night from Lexington where he spent the day on business.

Dr. L. I. Bodenheimer will hold services at the Bunker Hill church tomorrow at the usual hours. All are cordially invited to be present.

It is said that a deputy marshal will locate in our midst. Come along, brother.

We heard yesterday morning that Joe Jackson had left town but being aware of the fact that so many rumors were in circulation about this individual, did not give the report much credence. But after all the report of his disappearance is so. He was last seen going in the direction of Winston.

The case of state against him was to have come up before the magistrates this morning.

"Doll" Badly Hurt.

Another of Greensboro's fire horses has been unfitted for work during the tournament. This time the steamer company is the loser. Their two horses, which are the largest and among the best in the department, occupy adjoining stables at the engine house on West Gaston street. During last night the partition separating the stables was broken down and "Doll" went in the private apartment of her mate, "Nell."

The latter horse kicked "Doll" on both hips, cutting one gash 13 inches long and several smaller gashes. Dr. Stewart dressed the wounds this morning and it is thought that it will be several weeks before the animal will be fit for service. Nell and Doll weigh 1550 and 1530 respectively.

Looks Like a Battlefield.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Cleveland, O., July 22—The city this morning looks like a battlefield since the turbulent scenes of last night which continued far into the night. Naval maritimes are keeping guard at the danger points. It is feared that a settlement is further away than ever.

Depot at Kinston Burned.

Kinston, N. C., July 21—About noon the Atlantic Coast Line depot was destroyed by fire. The origin of the fire is unknown. It was discovered while the employees were at dinner. Two or three trucks and a few chairs are all that were saved.

TO DROP THE SILVER ISSUE.

Gold Men Will Urge This Upon the Next Convention.

THE DISPENSARY CHAMPION

Senator Tillman, of South Carolina,
Feels Sure of His Re-election.

Other Items of Interest.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, July 22—Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, was in Washington the other day enroute to Chicago to attend the meeting of the democratic national committee, of which he is a member. The senator while in Washington stated that at the next national convention a strong effort would be made by the gold democrats to get the party to drop the silver issue but he does not believe that it will be successful. He is of the opinion that the convention, like that of '96 will be under the control of the silver element, and he looks for the renomination of Bryan, and the re-adoption of the platform. He thinks that the conduct of the war in the Philippines, and the subject of trusts will also form a part of the platform, and will be discussed at the convention. The senator would not state where in his opinion the next national convention will be held, but it is understood that he is in favor of going to Chicago, which in the opinion of most of the southern members of the national committee, affords the best inducements and advantages for the national convention.

Senator Tillman is of the opinion that the subject of the Philippine war will be taken up to considerable length in the next congress, and the different phases of the situation will be discussed, though he is not certain in what form the question will be presented. He is not sure either what congress can do in the matter.

The term of Senator Tillman expires with the expiration of the next congress. He is said, however, to be as certain of re-election as any man can be of anything politically so long in advance. The dispensary issue in the state, of which he has been such an able champion has, it is said, about died out, and but little is heard now on the subject. The senator thinks the institution has proved a wise one for South Carolina, and he looks for its extension to some of the other southern states.

The 22nd annual Bush meeting (temperance) will commence at Purcellville, Va., on August 2nd and continue until August 4th. The music on this occasion will be one of the features of the meeting, and will be under the supervision of Prof. Percy Foster, of Washington. Among the speakers will be Rev. Sam Jones, of Georgia, and Rev. George S. Stewart and others equally prominent.

The Southern Railway, with its usual enterprise, has offered a very low rate from Washington, Alexandria, and other points along its line. It has made arrangements to run a special train from this city leaving here in the morning of each day of the meeting at 7:25 a. m., returning to the city about 8:30 p. m. The rate has been fixed from Washington at $1.55, which will enable a large number of people from this section to take advantage of, and attend the meetings.

Rumors in regard to Governor Russell, Senator Pritchard and other North Carolina republicans are being revived. The most ludicrous is the one which states Pritchard for the federal judgeship to succeed Ewart, Raynolds for the governorship and Russell for the senate.

The president, it can be stated on the best authority, would not take the chances of depleting the present republican strength in the senate by the appointment of Pritchard to the judgeship. Friends of Judge Ewart, on the other hand, expect to see him confirmed at the coming session of congress.

Col. A. B. Andrews, of the Southern Railway, was in Washington yesterday on a business trip connected with the road. He is stopping at the Hotel Raleigh, and it is understood will remain here for a few days.

Persons who attended the horse show at Manassas, Va., say that the meeting has been more important as a political gathering of Virginia democrats than as a horse show. It is said that the exhibition of horses, while not very large, that they were fully up to the standard in point of elegance and beauty.

Among republican leaders in Washington the belief is gaining that the next secretary of war will be either General Horace Porter, General James H. Wilson or Hon. Elihu Root. Many people look upon General Wilson, of Delaware, as the coming secretary of war.

Hon. Frank Hume is mentioned as a probable candidate for the state legislature of Virginia from Alexandria county. Mr. Hume is a well known business man of Washington City, and for many years has been prominent in Virginia democratic political circles.

Lloyd B. Willis has been appointed postmaster at Robin, Cumberland county, N. C., vice George A. Hall, removed.

George S. Wall has been appointed postmaster at Pump, Henderson county, N. C.

Special service has been discontinued at Randall, from Mooresville, N. C.

MISS FLORENCE M. ROBERTS.

The Close of a Pure, Lovely and Unselfish Life.

Entered into Paradise, July 17th, 1899, in the 29th year of her age, Miss Florence M. Roberts, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Roberts, of Greensboro, N. C.

Death came after a three weeks' illness from typhoid fever. For her it had no terror. She was resting peacefully upon that Savior whom upon her sick bed she had openly confessed, and whom no doubt she had long loved and trusted. She called her loved ones to her bedside. She prayed for them. She besought them not to grieve for her, but to follow her to that blessed home to which she was going. Then quietly she fell asleep to wake in Paradise.

A pure, lovely, and unselfish life was crowned with a peaceful and triumphant death. A dutiful and devoted daughter, a faithful and loving sister, she leaves a void in aching hearts that only God can fill.

"The birds are fled away, having outgrown our care, to fill a bough in the tree of life, and charm us on to follow after them."

"She is not dead, the child of our affection,

But gone into that school
Where she no longer needs our poor protection,

But Christ Himself doth rule.
"In that great cloister's stillness and seclusion,
By guardian angels led,
Safe from temptation, safe from sin's pollution,
She lives whom we call dead."

Egbert W. Smith.

THE DISPENSARY TRIAL.

The trial and binding over to court of the dispensary manager and board yesterday was the most natural result to be imagined. The manager of the dispensary is not supposed to require every man to bring along the family Bible to prove his age, nor is he required to examine his teeth. There are plenty of boys who look to be over twenty-one years of age; while, on the other hand, there are those over that age who do not look to be more than eighteen.

In this case, it is said the minor who bought the whiskey, looks to be at least twenty-five. We believe the prosecution to be entirely malicious. The father of the young man was refused whiskey because he is known to be a confirmed drunkard. It was previous to this the son bought whiskey, and afterwards that the father brought action against the dispensary for selling to his son who, it appears, is a minor. There is not a barkeeper in a thousand who has not violated the law against selling to minors, innocently of course, because, as we have observed, numbers of boys look older than they are. It would, therefore, be marvelous if the dispensary was not caught in the same way. Brushes of this kind may be expected, especially where there are people determined to persecute and harass and who will stop at no length to carry out their designs.

The dispensary was established by the moral sentiment and decent element of Greensboro, and the association of the dispensary board with people of low order who willfully violate the law and sell whiskey without license, on Sunday, and any other day, and to minors as well as anybody else, is an unblushing insult to the gentlemen who compose the board, the manager, and every friend of the dispensary in the city of Greensboro and out of it. The Telegram was in favor of the dispensary and is with it yet, and will remain with it until a still better way of handling the stuff is brought to light.

It is too serious a matter, even for a friend of the measure to presume to joke about. There is not a man in the city who will for a moment believe that any of the parties connected with the dispensary, would knowingly violate the law. The purchaser alone knows his age and he alone should be the culprit, and he is the man to be compared to such creatures as those who handle whiskey in an illicit manner.

It is said that the New York Journal and the World have the yellow fever.

PASSING OF A GREAT INFIDEL.

"Twilight and evening bells,
And after that the dark;
And may there be no sadness of farewell
When I embark."

Mr. Robert G. Ingersoll has crossed over to that undiscovered bourne whence no traveler has yet returned. The vigor of his intellect was as unimpaired yesterday afternoon when he sat pleasantly conversing with Mrs. Ingersoll in his elegant home, as when many a time, under the inspiration of vast audiences, he thrilled his listeners with burning rhetoric and soothed their consciences with false reasoning. One clear call for Robert, and he put out to sea. Without the hand of the Pilot to guide his frail bark, he tosses out there alone.

He was 66 years old—much older than probably many people imagined. His was one of the strongest and brightest minds that America has produced. He was an uncompromising foe to Christianity—probably the most dangerous one since the great Voltaire died. The meek and lowly Nazarene had no place in his heart. He professed agnosticism, that state of the mind which pretends to neither affirm nor deny the existence of a future state of the soul. Yet his life was spent in positive antagonism to the Christian religion. He pitted the finite against the infinite. Because his understanding could not grasp the divine plan,—and what proof had he that his understanding was not rotten?—he rejected the only guiding star, and groped alone in the dark.

Mr. Ingersoll had the right to believe as he wished. If his offense had stopped there the case against him were not so strong. But his literature—his atheistic books and pamphlets and lectures remain unburnt. The good of him is interred with his bones, and his evil lives on after him, spreading wave-like in its soul-destructiveness.

He has put out to sea. "May there be no moaning of the bar."

REPENTANCE AND CONVERSION.

Times of Refreshing From the Presence of the Lord.

"Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord."—Act 3:19.

The revised version beautifully turns on the light, if any is needed, by a slight change in phraseology. "Repent ye therefore, and turn again, that your sins may be blotted out, so that there may come seasons of refreshing from the presence of the Lord."

Peter and John were going up to the temple to engage in the afternoon prayer-meeting. At the "gate of the temple, which is called Beautiful," was lying a beggar. He saw the two disciples and arrested their attention by asking "an alms." In response to an invitation of Peter, "Look on us," the beggar gave heed, expecting to receive something. The disciples had neither silver nor gold, but said Peter, "Such as I have I give thee; in the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, rise up and walk, and he took him by the right hand and lifted him up." They preached and lifted at the same time. That's the Christ idea and the Christ example. Any preaching that doesn't extend the right hand is simply rot.

"Immediately his feet and ankle bones received strength, and he, leaping up, stood, and talked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, leaping and praising God." The incident, as a matter of course, drew together a great crowd of people: who came "greatly wondering" to the porch, or portico, where the disciples and the cured man stood. It was a time then for preaching, and a sermon was delivered in Peter's own inimitable style, or the style not much imitated these days; plain, practical, pointed. The incident broke up the prayer-meeting, for we hear nothing more of it; but it gave to the preacher a most excellent hypothesis on which to base his brief remarks.

Why should the men of Israel marvel? "Why look ye so earnestly on us, as though by our own power or holiness we have made this man to walk?" In this miracle you see the glorification of Jesus, the Son of God. The one whom you denied, the Holy One, the Just, Prince of Life, killed by yourselves, but "whom God hath raised from the dead; whereof we are witnesses." "And His name, through faith in His name, hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know; yea, the faith which is by him, hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all." "Repent ye therefore." Since the occurrence of today is so probably not man's work, you surely must be convinced that this Jesus of Nazareth was the Messiah; "let your minds be changed, and your hearts contrite for the sins you have committed." "And be converted," or "turn again." That is, turn to God through this Christ, deeply deploring your transgressions, and believing on His name. For what purpose? "That your sins may be blotted out," which are not only recorded against you, but for which you are condemned by the justice of God; and the punishment due to them must be executed upon you, unless prevented by your repentance and turning to Him whom you have crucified.

Repentance and conversion are so intimately connected that it is really difficult to draw the line of demarcation. The fact is, they are twin sisters going hand in hand. It is not my purpose to subject you to a study of the two Greek words, defining two different kinds of repentance. You know the one which I am writing, and besides, this paper prints English. Repentance is the dawning of a new life; and conversion is a realization of that life to self and all who come in contact with us. Everybody knows the converted man, even the animals know him. "Are you a converted man?" said a passenger of a London cabman. "Ask my horse," was the reply of the cheerful cabby. While repentance may be said to precede conversion, yet we never get through it until we reach a life where the act is not necessary. A celebrated English divine of the olden time remarked when preaching on the doctrine that if he died in the pulpit let it be while he was preaching repentance; if at home or elsewhere, let it be while he was living repentance.

There are several points in the story of the prodigal son which clearly illustrate these doctrines, repentance and conversion, the theme of our sermon today. 1. The words, "and when he came to himself," prove that he was under conviction, or convinced of the unlawfulness of his position. Before repentance, or a change of life for the better, there must necessarily be the conviction, "I am wrong;" else I would not be a miserable wretched, perishing with hunger, when in my father's house is bread enough for all, and even to spare. What a fall. It had taken him some time to discover the fact. There are many, however, who never make this discovery as to themselves. Sinner, wherever you are, in the crowd, in the church, what a pity that you cannot come to your self.

2. "No more worthy to be called thy son." That is contrition. It means the beginning of genuine repentance—"accompanied with a deep sense of ingratitude in the sinner, and sincere resolution to live in obedience to the divine law. This meaning is clearly established by the words of the prodigal here quoted, and also by those of the publican when he prays: "God, be merciful to me a sinner." A repentance without sorrow, contrition, is no good. It's sham.

3. I will arise and go to my Father, and will say unto Him, Father, I have sinned against heaven and before Thee. That's confession. "I have sinned." If you have done wrong confess it. No repentance without confession.

4. "And he arose and came." That was conversion, or the act of repentance consummated.

5. "His father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him." That was salvation, regeneration, adoption. Safe in the father's arms. Safe in the old home. He would likely sing, as I remember the glees of the old University singing:

"Home again, home again
And from a foreign shore
And, oh, it fills my heart with joy
To greet my friends once more."

Finally, "Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him; and put a ring on his hand and shoes on his feet." "And bring hither the fatted calf and kill it; for this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost and is found. And they began to be merry." And they capped the climax of this glorious occasion with "music and dancing." These last scenes on the occasion of the prodigal's return were the times of refreshing from the presence of the Lord. It was good to be there, except to such fellows as the elder brother who "was angry and would not go in." A bath, a robe, comfortable clothing, new shoes, velvet roast or cutlets, music, rejoicing, were things calculated to produce refreshment. Some old chum of former days comes by and says to the prodigal:

"Well, old boy, how would you like to go up into the far-off country again? Plenty of swine up there now, no trouble to get a job." The prodigal in reply says: "What do you take me for? I am done with that section. I like it best over here. Better climate, good clothes, shoes, plenty beef, sweet music, and everything pleasant, except my elder brother, who hoped I would never come back, but I trust he will repent and be converted soon (though he is a member of the church) and will join with us in the good times we are having."

The sinner is in the "far country." His sin keeps him from God. Let him repent and be converted. You may talk about falling from grace, but when you get home and sit on the robe of righteousness and put down to the Father's table, to which all are invited, you will never wish to wander again to the far-off country.

A governor of a western state, on a tour of inspection to the state prison, saw flowers growing beautifully in one of the cells. The convict told him that he cultivated the flowers because they reminded him of his mother, who was so fond of them. The governor decided that a man possessed of such sentiment had not yet lost all ability to become a good citizen, and on returning home made out a pardon and sent it to the convict. It is not stated that the other convicts commenced the cultivation of flowers; but in the Word of Life we are certainly taught that when God sees the beautiful flower of repentance growing in and out of the sinner's heart, he grants a pardon that is a blotting out of all iniquity, and which delivers the sinner from the bondage of sin. "Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out." J. C. Troy.

Is It Right for an Editor to Recommend Patent Medicines?

From Sylvan Valley News, Brevard, N. C.

It may be a question whether the editor of a newspaper has the right to publicly recommend any of the various proprietary medicines which flood the market, yet as a preventive of suffering we feel it a duty to say a good word for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We have known and used this remedy in our family for twenty years and have always found it reliable. In many cases a dose of this remedy would save hours of suffering while a physician is awaited. We do not believe in depending implicitly on any medicine for a cure, but we do believe that if a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy were kept on hand and administered at the inception of an attack much suffering might be avoided and in very many cases the presence of a physician would not be required. At least this has been our experience during the past twenty years. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

How to Look Good.

Good looks are really more than skin deep, depending entirely on a healthy condition of the vital organs. If the liver is inactive you have a bilious look; if your stomach is disordered you have a dyspeptic look; if your kidneys are affected you have a pinched look. Secure good health and you will surely have good looks. "Electric Bitters" is a good alterative and tonic. Acts directly on the stomach, liver and kidneys, purifies the blood, cures pimples, blotches and boils, and gives a good complexion. Every bottle guaranteed. Sold at C. E. Holton's drug store. 50 cents per bottle.

WINE OF CARDUI

WOMEN WHO WORK.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 12.

Though only 19 years old, I suffered from pain and female troubles two years. Last spring I got so bad I had to quit work. I had to support myself, and could not afford a high-priced doctor. I got one bottle of Wine of Cardui and that made me feel better. Have now used several bottles and am well. My mother used the Wine for Change of Life and was greatly relieved.

MISS MARGARET WALSH.

Wine of Cardui

Many girls and women find it necessary to earn their own living in various kinds of employment. Their work is often so hard and confining that the health breaks down. Their delicate constitutions are unfitted for tireless tasks. Weakness nearly always makes its appearance in the peculiarly delicate womanly organs. Constant standing on the feet, and coming and going at the beck of a superintendent or foreman, induces falling of the womb, leucorrhoea, headache and backache. The pay of women workers is often so notoriously small that when sickness comes they have no money to engage skillful physicians. To them Wine of Cardui is truly a blessing. It cures them of their ills at a small cost, and they can act as their own physicians. No doctor can do as much for "female troubles" as Wine of Cardui.

New Methods in Advertising.

Railway companies are adopting new and unique methods of advertising, as is demonstrated by the publication in the Four Track Series of the New York Central Road, of what is now becoming widely known and somewhat famous, "A Message to Garcia," by Elbert Hubbard, of the Philistine Magazine, which itself is a peculiar and interesting publication as relating to magazines of the present day.

This article is attracting widespread attention, and has been answered by a writer in "The Mirror," published at St. Louis, under date of June 15, 1899, entitled "A Message to Hubbard," which gives the other side of the American employee.

The Southern Railway, the leading Southern system, spreading from Washington to the Mississippi River, and gridironing the South, and the only line to "The Land of the Sky" section of western North Carolina, has also issued a publication out of the ordinary, in the shape of an attractive booklet entitled "A Night on Mount Mitchell," by Henry Litchfield West, one of the leading editorial and political writers of the Washington Post, a paper widely and favorably known for the ability displayed in its editorial and political columns. This story is a description of an ascension to the very top of Mount Mitchell, which is the highest mountain peak east of the Rocky Mountains, and 400 feet higher than Mount Washington, upon which has been erected a monument to Professor Mitchell, after whom the mountain was named.

The story is replete with interest and thrilling in detailing a trip which may be taken by any traveler for health or pleasure, and reminds one of Talmage's description of Lookout Mountain, when he stood upon its heights and delivered the following oration, which is reproduced for its graphic description of a location famous in American history:

"The carriage wound its way up, up, up. Standing there on the tip-top rock, I saw five states of the Union. Scenes stupendous and overwhelming. One almost is disposed to take off his hat in the presence of what seems to be the grandest prospect on this continent. There is Missionary Ridge, the beach against which the red billows of Federal and Confederate courage surged and broke. There are the blue mountains of North and South Carolina. With strain of vision there is Kentucky, there is Virginia. At our feet, Chattanooga and Chickamauga, the pronouncement of which proper names will thrill ages to come with thoughts of valor and desperation and agony. Looking each way, and any way, from the top of that mountain, earthworks, earthworks—the beautiful Tennessee winding through the valley, curling and coiling around, making letter S after letter S, as if that letter stood for shame that brothers should have gone to massacre with each other while God and nations looked on. I have stood on Mount Washington, and on the Sierra Nevada, and on the Alps, but I never saw so far as from the top of Lookout Mountain."

Copies of this booklet and other interesting publications on "The Land of the Sky" section and "Lookout Mountain" may be obtained from Mr. W. A. Turk, General Passenger Agent Southern Railway, Washington, D. C.

A diseased stomach surely undermines health. It dulls the brain, kills energy, destroys the nervous system, and predisposes to insanity and fatal diseases. All dyspeptic troubles are quickly cured by Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It has cured thousands of cases and is curing them every day. Its ingredients are such that it can't help curing. Howard Gardner.

A Cheap Trip to the Pacific Coast.

The National Educational Association meeting at Los Angeles, Cal., is the occasion for the Southern Railway to put on the remarkably cheap rate of One Fare for the Round Trip (plus $2.00 Association Membership fee). This, in connection with the new Palace Tourist Sleeping Cars, operated over the Southern Railway and the Southern Pacific, a double berth in which costs only $7.00, renders possible the cheapest and most enjoyable trip of the season. A particularly pleasant feature of this trip is that the tickets are good going one way and returning another; i. e., going via New Orleans and returning through Salt Lake City and Colorado; or by the payment of $12.50 additional, the trip may be made returning through Portland, Ore.

Stop over privileges are allowed at El Paso or any point west thereof, on the going trip, and at any point west of Denver and Colorado Springs on the return trip. By this means passengers are afforded the opportunity of seeing the entire Pacific Coast. Side trips are arranged at nominal cost from Los Angeles and San Francisco to all points of interest in California. Further information may be obtained from any agent or representative of the Southern Railway, or from DeWitt's Little Early Risers benefit permanently. They lend gentle assistance to nature, causing no pains or weakness, permanently curing constipation and liver ailments. Howard Gardner.

Louis Billow has been arrested at Ellensburg, Wash., charged with murder, committed three years ago, at Fremont, O.

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter, nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

John Holland and Samuel Smith, while operating a buzz saw at Yorkers, Mass., had their arms almost sawed off.

"What might have been"—if that little cough hadn't been neglected—is the sad reflection of thousands of consumptives. One Minute Cough Cure cures coughs and colds. Howard Gardner.

James McCarthy, the novelist, was knocked off his bicycle at Denver, Col., and probably fatally injured.

An Entertaining Druggist.

There are a few men more awake or enterprising than C. E. Holton, who spares no pains to secure the best of everything in his line for his many customers. He now has the valuable agency for Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. This is the wonderful remedy that is producing such a furor all over the country by its startling cures. It absolutely cures asthma, bronchitis, hoarseness, and all affections of the throat, chest and lungs. Call at the above drug store and get a trial bottle free or a regular size for 50 cents and $1. Guaranteed to cure or price refunded.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Eugene P. Albee, of Winston, was here last night.

Lin'say Hopkins, of Reidsville, was here this morning.

Miss Ruth Worth returned to her home in Raleigh this morning.

Ex-Judge Spencer B. Adams went to Burlington this morning on legal business.

H. W. Cobb, of Danville, spent last night in the city, returning home this morning.

W. A. Devin, formerly of this city, but now of Oxford, spent last night here and returned home this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Benson Parker, of Trinity, passed through the city yesterday returning home from Carolina Beach.

Frank D. Jones, of Gulf, superintendent of the Durham & Charlotte Railroad, came up on the afternoon A. & Y. train yesterday.

Miss Ruby Glascock, who has been visiting friends and relatives in Concord, Charlotte and Monroe for some time, returned home last evening.

Dr. Dred Peacock returned yesterday afternoon from from Gibson, where he attended Rockingham District Conference in the interest of Greensboro Female College.

Senator J. C. Pritchard spent last evening in the city on his way from Raleigh to Washington, where he goes on personal business. The senator said the exceptions in the Breese and Dickenson cases were satisfactorily arranged.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Elliott returned yesterday afternoon from Liberty, where Mr. Elliott has been superintending the work on the new residence of Dr. Smith. The residence was completed yesterday and all the carpenters, who were from Greensboro, have returned.

Mr. A. Saunders, writing from Coconut Grove, Fla., says there has been quite an epidemic of diarrhoea there. He had a severe attack and was cured by four doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says he also recommended it to others and they say it is the best medicine they ever used. For sale by C. E. Holton.

The Sapphire Country.

Along the cool southern slopes and table lands of the Blue Ridge mountains in Western North Carolina, at an average altitude of 3,000 feet, is a country full of delightful surprises to the tourist, sportsman and health-seeker. No other state contains so many clear, cold and wonderfully picturesque streams, so many grand water falls, such wide sweeping mountain views, and such beautiful lakes as the Sapphire Country, where until recently there was no provision made for the accommodation of visitors to this delightful section. Now, however, entertainment is offered on Lake Sapphire, Lake Fairfield, and on the summit of Mt. Toxaway, the view from the lodge there being the most extensive of any mountain point of vantage in North Carolina.

Parties desiring to visit this beautiful country can purchase round trip tickets to Brevard, N. C., via Hendersonville, where coaches convey you over good roads making the drive one of extreme pleasure. For full information call on any agent Southern Railway, or write R. L. Vernon, traveling passenger agent, Charlotte, N. C., or W. A. Turk, general passenger agent, Washington, D. C.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Hudson has a new display for your perusal today.

J. M. Hendrix & Co. present a new ad today. First page, top first column.

Whats the matter? Why the Pied Piper is going to kill all the rats at the Academy of Music Friday night, July 28th. Lets all go and help out the orchestra.

Every body wants to know what is the meaning of rats. Come to the Academy of Music Friday night, July 28th and find out. The orchestra hopes to see you there.

The monthly literary meeting of the West Market Street Epworth League next Monday evening, subject: Sidney Lanier. An interesting program has been prepared and all are invited.

Gala week will be more or less dangerous. You are as liable to meet with an accident as anybody, and to be safe you had better see Murray Brothers and take out a policy. They also offer inducements in fire insurance.

Lee Nelson and Cleoro Coble, the two negroes who robbed Troxler Brothers' safe a few days ago were tried before Mayor Taylor yesterday afternoon. They were bound over to court on bond of $100 each, in default of which they were sent back to jail.

E. L. Gilmer, 1st lieutenant in the Greensboro company, D., Second N. C. Volunteers in the late war, has been appointed by the president to be captain of volunteers in the new regiments now being raised. Lieut. Gilmer is an able man, and was greatly liked by his company. He received a telegram from Senator Pritchard this morning informing him that he had received the appointment, but does not yet know where he will be ordered to report for duty.

CHEMICAL EXPLOSION.

Created a Buzz of Excitement Last Night at Guilford College.

Last night a quantity of chemicals in the laboratory at Guilford College caught fire by spontaneous combustion and exploded, causing a buzz of excitement. The laboratory is in the Duke building. The damage was slight.

Two Delayed Trains.

The Atlantic & Yadkin passenger train from the south, due here at 4:15 p. m., was about two and a half hours late yesterday afternoon, the delay being caused by a slight wreck, which occurred just this side of Siler City. While the train was skipping over the rails at a good speed the tender jumped the track and bumped the cross-ties for some distance before the train was stopped. No damage was done.

The train from the East, due here at 6:35 p. m., was about an hour late yesterday, this delay being caused by a freight wreck near Hillsboro.

Moonlight Pleasure-Seekers.

A merry party of fifteen or twenty young ladies and gentlemen enjoyed a moonlight drive to the battle ground last evening. The crowd left the city early in the evening in two hacks, and returned shortly before midnight.

Quite a number of young people from the city drove out to Guilford College last night to attend the lawn party given for the benefit of the Sunday school there. They report a most enjoyable trip and that the lawn party was a huge success.

Pure Philadelphia Ice Cream.

The only kind endorsed by the people. Everybody says it's the best and West is the only man that keeps it; delivered for Sunday dinner. Your orders solicited by J. H. West, the Philadelphia ice cream manufacturer.

No, Maude, dear, we have never understood that the selections rendered on a jewsharp could be referred to as "chin music."

Thomas Rhoads, Centerfield, Ohio, writes: "I suffered from piles seven or eight years. No remedy gave me relief until DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, less than a box of which permanently cured me." Soothing, healing, perfectly harmless. Beware of counterfeits. Howard Gardner.
